Weather Mars GC Pilgrimage

One of the heaviest rains of the month marred the morning hours of the Bay-Waveland Day of the Gulf Coast Pilgrimage last Friday. The skies literally opened to pour down and heavy rains of the latter part of the week had already flooded roads, which prevented motorists from driving to Hancock County.

Intrepid hostesses opened their homes instead of gardens and graciously served coffee to those pilgrims who braved the rain of the morning. Gardens were not able to be shown, and with the bad freezes plus the aftermath of heavy rainfall flowers were not in bloom.

The luncheon at the Hotel provided a salvation of the day, as the gay women charmingly turned out in the finery of their grandmother's day added spice and flavor to what otherwise would have been a very disappointed group of people.

The costumes were most attractive and the models who were selected from members of the club and local residents, paraded and preened in the finery of a bygone day, to the delight of the spectators. The delicious seafood luncheon served by the management of Reed Hotel also helped to allay the disappointment the bad weather caused.

During the afternoon, sun managed to break through clouds, and the day turned bright and sunny allowing remaining spots to be visited more pleasantly.

The viewing of the Grotto at the Seminary was an enjoyable stop of the post luncheon period, and the closing of the day with the tea at the Luderbach home brought an end to the 1958 Spring Pilgrimage of the Coast Council of Garden Clubs.

In connection with the National Celebration, Mrs. T. F. Monti, Jr., and Mrs. James Anale, active workers in the Girl Scout movement locally, decorated a window in Delphi's Department store to commemorate the celebration.

The attractive arrangement displayed three figures of a woman wearing the dress of a Girl Scout, a Girl Scout, and a Girl Scout. The figures were made of cardboard and were painted to look like real girls.

Fredericks Trial Opens 18th

Trial of Leonard Fredericks, Kiln, Negro, charged with murdering Ray Ladner, 33 year old white Kiln restaurant-grocery owner, on the night of October 27, 1957, is set for Tuesday, March 18.

The 45 year old negro was the owner of the establishment in which Ladner ran his combination business.

Ladner was killed from a bullet discharged from a 12 gauge shot gun about 11:30 p. m. following an altercation with the negro landlord in his place of business. Two witnesses who fled the scene when Ladner fell dead from a gun shot wound received when he responded to a knock on the door, by opening it and a gun pointed into the room from the darkened area of the entrance was fired.

The two men later returned and told Sheriff Ladner they had fled fearing they would be shot also.

An immediate search for Fredericks began after the Sheriff was told of the quarrel between him and Ladner about a half hour before the shooting took place. Ladner's body was found by his wife when she returned to the business establishment after visiting in the neighborhood with a woman companion.

Fredericks went into hiding, evading the police. Sheriff's Deputies, State Highway Patrol, and a posse all searched for the wanted suspect. He was persuaded by his wife, late the following afternoon to surrender, and upon giving himself up was whisked to an adjoining county where he was jailed on suspicion of murder, charged by Sheriff Ladner.

He denied owning a gun and maintained his innocence. On Nov. 2, Sheriff Ladner discovered a hidden trap door under the bed in a room of the Fredericks home. The door opened onto steps which led to a cellar where the Sheriff found the gun.

It was sent by Sheriff Ladner, along with the spent bullet from the body of the dead man to the Bureau of Identification in New Orleans, where police ballistics experts, Captain Charles Kincaid, proved the bullet was fired from that gun.

Fredericks had been kept jailed outside of Hancock County, until he was brought over this week to be arraigned before the Grand Jury who set trial for Tuesday, March 18.

Ladner was the father of four small children.

Luncheon Sponsored By Bay-Waveland Garden Club For Friday, March 21st

A luncheon will be sponsored by the Bay-Waveland Garden Club with members and friends invited to attend at the Hotel Reed Friday, March 21, at noon.

At a meeting of the Executive Board of the Club held Monday of this week at the home of Mrs. Reuben Gray, it was decided that since the weather had been so bad the day of the Pilgrimage had been made at the Hotel for the luncheon, which was postponed up, and since the hotel manager, Mr. Linn had not requested advance reservation fees, the Garden Club felt morally obligated to try to get sufficient luncheon guests to attend this luncheon so as to relieve the hotel of the heavy investment it had made in preparing and purchasing for a much larger number of guests than arrived.

The same delicious seafood plate, with salad, dessert, hot rolls and coffee will be served at the same charge as on the date of the Pilgrimage.

Officers of the Garden Club are requesting all members to attend as an honor obligation to the organization, and to bring friends. The invitation is also extended to the public.

Reservations should be made in advance by calling Mr. Linn at the Hotel Reed.

OUR HOSPITAL

Last week this newspaper carried an article on Hancock County Hospital which described the situation as "growing pains."

We would like to continue to refer to the situation as "growing pains" for it is our opinion that any business, institution or new venture, must encounter crinkles and wrinkles which must be ironed out before smooth machinery is possible.

People are individuals, and as such, exercise the "right" as we are proud to call it in this country of expressing individual opinions, and the management and operation of the hospital is done by individuals, each endowed with the ability to think for himself and by privilege of American birthright to express such opinions. Clashes of opinions are inevitable, and it is just such difference which bring the best good for the most people. We, therefore, are of the opinion that if given half a chance, the Hancock County Hospital will overcome these current growing pains, and will emerge as a substantial and solid rock service the people of Hancock County in their hours of need and suffering.

From the financial standpoint, it is possible that his endeavors its Administrator is guilty of over-zealousness in efforts to establish a hospital which would be first rate from all view points, and that when given the appointment by the Hospital Board of Trustees, they may have failed to impress on him the fact that the current hospital was to be merely an emergency institution to serve as a stop gap between the old hospital and the completion of the Hill-Burton Hospital, which was voted for by the people by an overwhelming majority, and that both Administrator and Board were at fault in an outlay of money which was in excess of that expected to be sufficient by those members of the Board of Supervisors, who are directly responsible for the financial accounting of the spending of tax money to the people of the county.

While we are not condoning errors of judgment, or otherwise, we still feel that the initial cost always be the greatest, that the picture is not nearly so black as an early view would reveal.

It is impossible for any business to realize profits less than two months of service, and with a hospital which is rarely a profit making business, it is a foregone conclusion that the initial cost of rebuilding, furnishing, and stocking of medical and drug supplies would take quite a lot of financing. Drugs alone are an expensive item, and certain types of drugs, which are quite costly, may not be needed immediately by doctors, but if not on hand when such need arises, a life may hang in the balance. Would any of us split hairs of dollars over the saving of a life?

Again, and since this is our privilege in writing editorial, our opinion is that such expenditures would eventually take care of themselves.

We do honestly believe that since no one of us is infallible, we would be very wise if, as lay members of the community, we allowed the members of the Board of Supervisors, Hospital Trustees, and Administrators to work out the solutions of the problem, and again feel confident that all of the persons in these positions are anxious to establish a hospital for the county which will give the ultimate in service at the minimum in cost. And that during the interim of the building of the Hill-Burton Hospital a great deal of use and knowledge of the community, its people, and their needs will be used to advantage by those directly concerned in the issue. Life in every phase is continually improved by trial and error, followed by correction.

When we do not want our money thrown to the winds, any more than does any level headed citizen, we do feel that the discernment of those business men who are rendering their services as members of the Board of Supervisors, Mr. Clement, who depends on his salary by what he earned as Administrator of the hospital, and members of the Board of Supervisors, who are elected by the people because of their ability to lead the affairs of the county, will be used to advantage by those directly concerned in the issue.
